Mentor-Mentee Programme

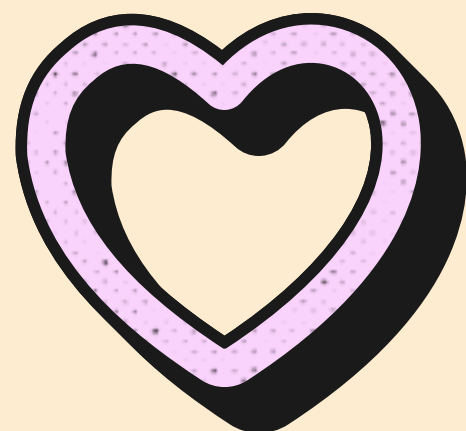

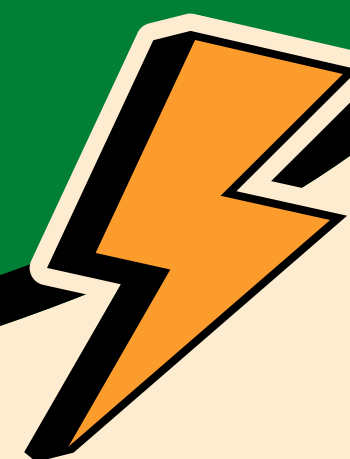

This week, the afternoon school session does not have the weekly official school assembly. However, it was replaced with the Mentor-mentee programme. I am one of the mentors for my class, 2 AlKindi and the topic for today's programme was about 'Garis Hidup' where the students have to share anything about their sweet or bitter moments that they have encountered before and then they need to draw their 'graf garisan kehidupan' that shows the positivity and negativity status during their life especially this year (2023). The purpose of this programme is so students can share their life experience and realize their weaknees so they can improve to be a better person. the students are provided an A4 paper by their mentor and they need to write any sweet or bitter experience on the paper and include at least one life lesson that they've learnt for that incident and later share it to the class.

Classes

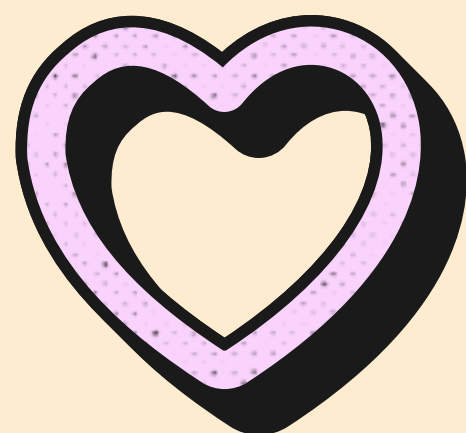

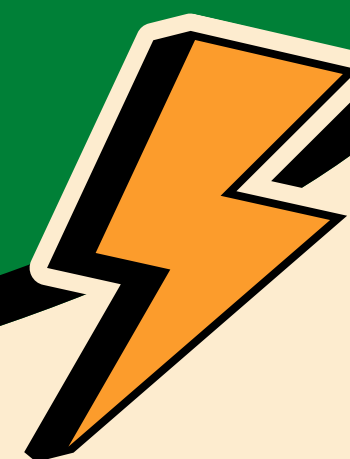

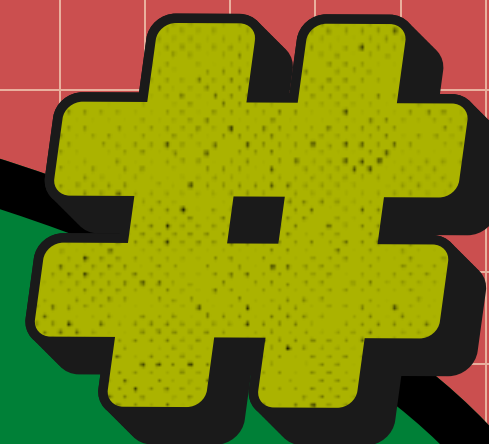

Today, I had art classes as usual with my 2 Ibnu Khaldun. I entered a new chapter today with them which is Chapter 7 - Reka Bentuk Industri. In this chapter, I taught them the meaning and examples of Industrial designs including the field and principle of industrial designs. I asked them to write down notes in their sketch books.

Other than that, I had three relief classes with 2 AlHazen, 1 AlJazari and 1 Ibnu Sina. Their teachers for the subject I am substituting for has informed me earlier on the works that they want students to do during the relief class.

Sports Club Meeting

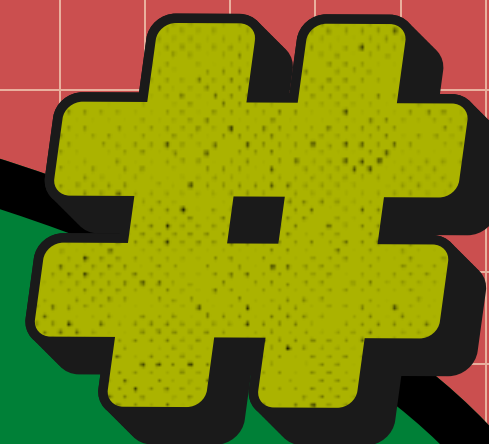

Today is the last meeting for the sports club co-curriculum, my club which is the sepak takraw club, had our last meeting with the students. Same as the previous weeks where there was no sepak takraw ball, me and Madam Mardiana let the students play in a different sports club. Half of the sepak takraw members joined the football club and another half joined the dodgeball club. Me and Madam Mardiana split tasks, she took care of the students playing dodgeball and I took care of the students playing football at the football field.

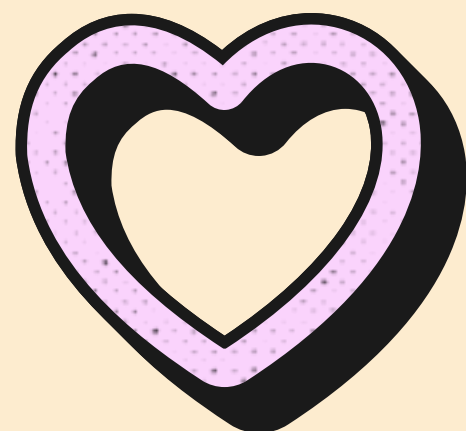

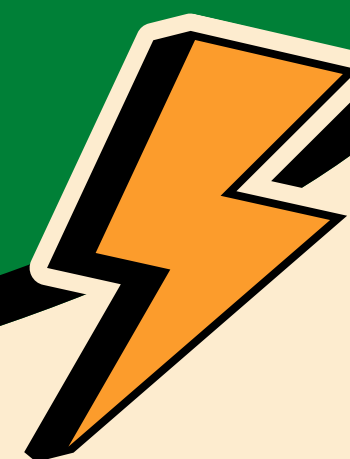

Classes

For today's classes later in the afternoon, I taught my students comparative and superlative adjectives. I prepared a slide for them and taught them based on my slides. I noticed that teaching grammar to the students or any sorts of topic is more fun and time saving with a projector. Students played guessing game using comparative and superlative adjectives, comparing different types of things. They are put in groups and the winners will receive a reward from the teacher. Later for the class exercise, students are asked to construct sentences using comparative and superlative adjectives and they are asked to identify which type of adjectives do their sentences belongs to (comparative or superlative adjectives).

Weekly Duty

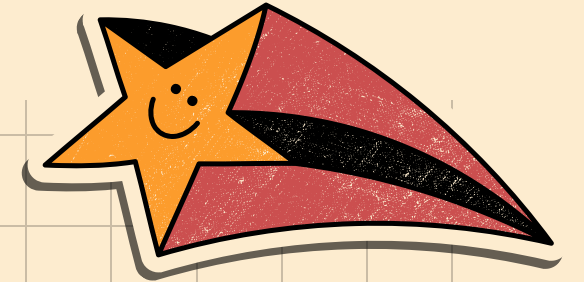

Start School Session

My duty during the start of school session is to take care of students at both of the sudut pidato. Non muslim and girls who aren't able to perform zohor prayer will gather in this area and my duty is to make sure they stay quiet because this week is the start of the week for form 5 students who are sitting for their SPM trial exam and I need to make sure the students does not make much noise that will cause distraction to form 5 students.

End school session

At the end of school session, I was in charged of the hallway near the school hall, my duty is to control students who passes the hallway making sure they exit school safely and not wander around. I greeted students and wished them a safe journey back home.

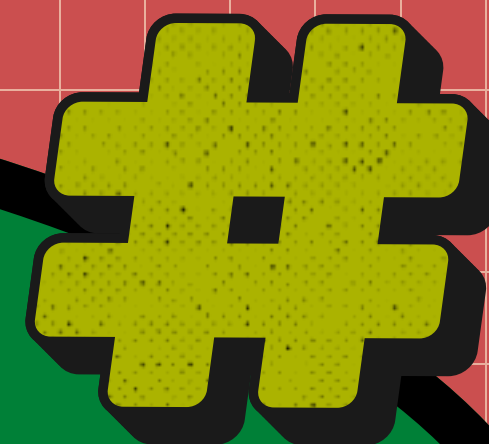

Classes

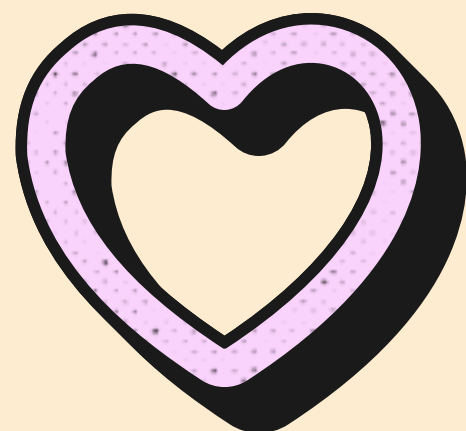

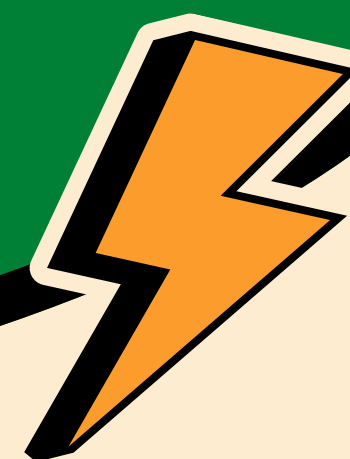

Today, I continued teaching them comparative and superlative. Yesterday I couldn't finish on giving them the exercises. So today for both classes I gave the the exercise but before that I asked them again the differences between comparative and superlative adjectives making sure they know how to form and the correct use of both adjectives.

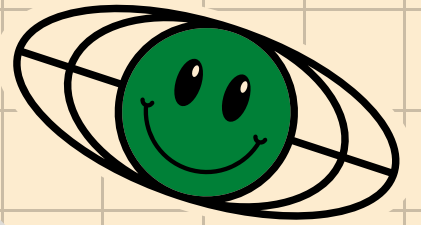

For my relief class, I only had one which is with 2 AlBattani. For this relief class, the main teacher did not provide any materials or works for them to do so I just let them do a revision on any subject in order to keep the class quiet while other classes are having a lesson.

Relief Classes

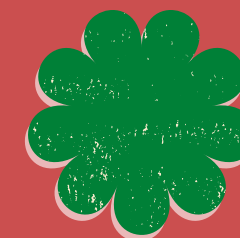

As usual, on Fridays I have no classes but I have two relief classes. One with 2 AlJazari and another one with 2 AlKhawarizmi. For the class 2 AlKhawarizmi, I substituted for the subject Bahasa Melayu, their main teacher, Tuan Suriani, she gave them a homework which is a crossword puzzle. So i handed them the work and asked them to complete it during the class hour as I was substituting for 1 hour.

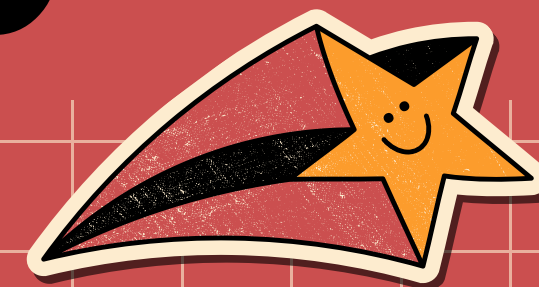

That's all for

Week 15!!

* SWOT ANALYSIS *

S

Preparing enough teaching material for the students such as A4 paper, projectors and worksheets

T

I was supposed to teach my classes using the projector on Monday but there was a problem at school with the electricity. Therefore, I used the projector in their classes on Wednesday instead.

W

Couldn't finish the lesson in time so I had to continue the lesson in the next class. I still need to improve on my time management in class.

O

Students were able to participate in online games in a group to enhance their skills in working in a team and improve their communication and participation in class.
