SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

In today's school assembly, the school launch a Palestine Solidarity week to spread awareness to children regarding the situation that is happening in Gaza, Palestine now. For this week, the school will held many activities for students to join related to spreading this awareness. There will be a poster drawing competition, Public speech comepetition, Singing competition and more art related comepetitions. This Palestine Solidarity Week enable students to actively be involved in giving their support and help for palestinians. The school also opens a donation box which will travel daily from classes to classes to help the palestinians in need.

CLASSES

As I mentioned, yesterday during the launch of Palestine Solidarity Week, the school will have a poster drawing competition. The Art committee has informed us earlier to let students know that they need to create a poster with the theme of peace and humanity. They will be provided with the A4 drawing paper and then its up to their creativity on how they want to draw the poster as long as it is related and suitable with the theme.

SUBMIT DOCUMENTS

Today me and Najwa couldn't attend the English Club co-curriculum as we need to submit the observation and curricular form to our respective supervisor at the university. We already informed the school principal and the senior teachers regarding our absent for today's co-curriculum meeting.

Once we arrived, she went directly to Madam Nurfarizatul's office and placed the documents into her tray outside her office then we notified her. Straight after that we went directly to school.

CLASSES

For today's class, I taught the students on modal verb should and shouldn't, after my observation with them on Question Tags, there were students asking me what is the difference between should, shouldn't and should not. Therefore, I have decided to teach them the difference between should and shouldn't today.

CLASSES

Today's class, I asked the students to do one of the exercise in their module book. i asked them to do the objective questions and writing an email reaponding to the sending of the question. Only a few were able to complete it during the class hours, the rest couldn't finish it so I let them do it as a homework and hand it in to me by tomorrow as I need to check their work for their PBD (Pentaksiran Bilik Darjah).

CLASS RELIEF

Other than my own classes, I also have three class relief. For the first class relief, Teacher Huda informed me to get the materials for her students in 1 Ibnu Khaldun to do during the class relief. As for the other two classes, their subject teacher did not inform me anything. So I let them do their own work, thankfully they have a homework to finish, that'll keep them busy and quite for a while.

THAT'S ALL FOR WEEK 14!!
