MEETING THE GKMP

Before the school assembly today, I went to meet the GKMP Bahasa, Cikgu Muhammad for him to sign my lesson plan as he forgot to sign it for last week. During the meeting with Cikgu Muhammad, briefed to me about what needs to have in the lesson plan file and he also gave me a coaching mentoring form and told me that the form is for every one-on-one personal consultation with any teacher at school. The school also requires us to write a weekly journal and we need to submit it to them at the end of our practical.

SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

For today's school assembly, the school has invited someone to give a talk about coding school in Malaysia. The talk was to promote coding schools and to attract students into being interested with coding as nowadays we are living in a modern technology world and it is important for students to get used with technologies used in this digital era. At the end of the talk, the person opens up a form for student who are interested to learn and join coding. Most of the participants who joined are students who are interested in programming.

CLASSES

For my classes today, I was asked by my mentor to focus on short communicative essays as the students are very weak in their essay writing especially on part 1 of the English Paper 2 which is the short communicative essays. Miss Farah suggested that I should focus on writing short messages and writing an email because my students are lacking in these part. I noticed some students don't know the format of writing a short message and email, seems like they can't differentiate the format between those two. So today I taught them email first, how to write and reply to an email.

SUDUT MERDEKA

As I have mentioned in my previous blog, practical teachers have been given the task to decorate the Sudut Kemerdekaan at the speech corner. Each of us practical teachers has been given the task by one of the morning history teacher, Cikgu Shafira. She is the coordinator for this project. She mentioned that the parties from MPAJ will be touring the school and needs to see the Sudut Kemerdekaan. I was given the task to draw the Malaysia Madani logo along with Najwa and Aina. We used a projector to trace the logo. Once were finished, we painted the logo.

MEETING SEPAK TAKRAW

Our main senior teacher was sick and unable to attend today's sepak takraw meeting so she asked me to handle the students. Originally the plan was to make the meeting through online, we discussed yesterday to probably show a speak takraw game and let the students analyse the game through online. However, the principal mentioned that we cannot conduct the co-curriculum activity online. Usually the meeting will start at 8 but due to the sudden notice, we postponed it to 9am and we have to attend school this morning. Only 3 students showed up and the takraw ball is nowhere to be found in the store. So I just let them do warm up and join any sports that is available at the moment.

CLASSES

For my classes today, I focused on writing a short message. In the last class I focused on email so today I woul like to focus on short messages. Again, I teach the format of how to form a short message. I notice that the students does not include much of the cohesive devices in their writing, so I taught them few cohesive devices first that they can use. i explained to them the importance of using cohesive devices in their writing as it's like giving free marks, using cohesive and linking devices helps them a lot for the marks.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR EARLIER PRACTICAL TEACHERS

Today is the last day for the practical teachers who attended the school earlier than us. There are 6 of them and we decided to have a farewell party for them. Aina and Ainur are pracyixal teachers for the afternoon and they have been helping me with a lot of things during my time at school with them. Thanks to them, I got to know about the whereabouts of the school. Sharing our last moments finishing the task that was last for them which is to finish off the Sudut Kemerdekaan.

THAT'S ALL FOR WEEK 9

THANK YOU

STRENGTH

Students were able to understand the difference between the short communicative essays-emails and short messages.

OPPORTUNITY

Students have the opportunity to know what makes them get higher marks to their essay writing. Such as getting to know that uses cohesive and linking devices makes them receive higher marks in their essays if they use them correctly in the writing.

WEAKNESS

Lacking materials for the students. I only provided explanations using the whiteboard and students weren't jotting down the notes written on the whiteboard.

THREAT

Majority of the students did not bring their essay books which led them to not do their work.
