SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

Welcome back to my weekly blog with another Monday, another school assembly. As usual there will be an award ceremony and speech by the school principal on students discipline and well being in schools. The school principal addresses few issues that has been going around lately in school especially on students exam results because they just finished sitting for their exams.

CLASSES

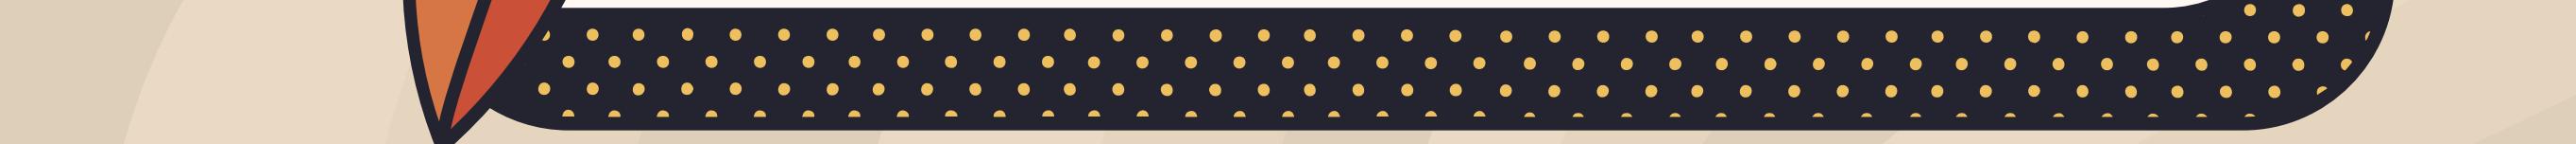

I can finally start teaching them a new lesson as I am done with the exam paper discussions. Today i taught both of my classes on space exploration. My lesson usually follows the schools RPT (Rancangan Pengajaran Tahunan) and I have also consulted with my mentor on ths week's lesson plan and she approves it. So for today's lesson on space exploration, I did a spelling test to check whether students can spell the planets name correctly. After that, I asked them to draw a new planet with the topic of that new planet is a planet they newly discovered if they were in space. They did a great job in drawing, most of them are over the top and very creative. After they drew the planet, they were need to construct a short essay based on their planets. So in the essay they need to describe the planet such as its name and the characteristics.

ANTI-BULLYING CAMPAIGN

After solat zohor today, students are required to go to the school hall for the anti-bullying talk that was given by Sir Wan Shahidan who was invited to the school to give a talk on anti-bullying. During the talk he showed a few videos to the students which includes the cause and effects of bullying. He also had a few QnA session for the students. With hope this campaign can help reduce the numbers of students being bullied day by day.

CO-CURRICULUM MEETING UNIFORM

Today is my first meeting for uniform co-curriculum. I was assigned to Puteri Islam. As for my first meeting, I was on duty with Ustazah Rosliana. The students have been told before hand to bring their own ingredients from home such as bread, milk, egg, tuna, and so on. They have been told that they will be making a sandwich and cocktail drink. The purpose of this activity during this meeting is to teach students how to make simple food without the use of the kitchen stove, microwave and oven. They were also taught that these simple foods could be made when there is no food prepared at home or when they stay alone and is finding something to eat. Therefore, with this lesson, we hope that students of Puteri Islam Association can make simple food at home by themselves.

WEEKLY DUTY

Back again with my weekly duties, this time I am in charge of the Speech Corner (Sudut Pidato) while the students are going for zohor prayer. This corner is near the canteen and non muslims as well as female students who can't pray will sit here during solat zohor as they are not allowed to stay in class. Usually they will be at Dewan Seri Melawati but if there is an activity there, they will gather at the Speech Corner.

WEEKLY DUTY

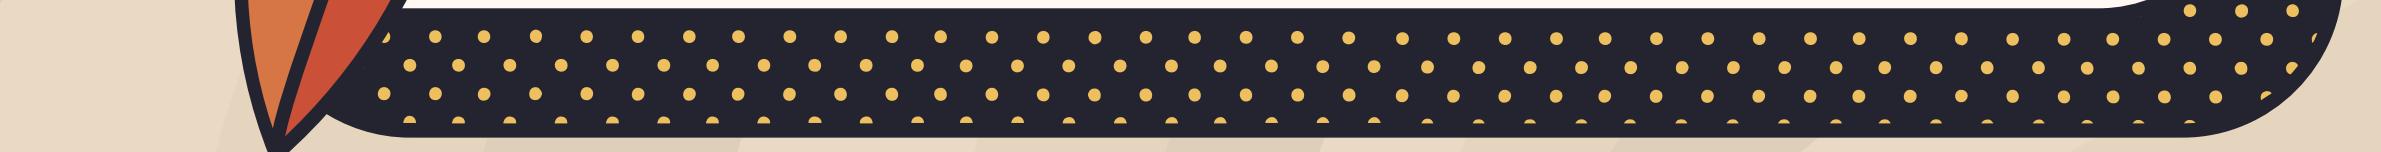

My duty after school period ends is to watch students exiting schools from the back gate. This gate is nearer to form 2 students so most of them will go home using this exit. My task is to watch them go out safely, making sure they don't play around near the roads as there are many cars passing by. Many parents were already waiting for this children. Even after my duty ends at 6.40pm, there seems to be quite a lot of students who are still waiting for their parents to pick them up but I couldn't wait longer as the school rules is to close all gates at 7pm.

CLASSES

My enter my classes as usual. Today I am still teaching them about space exploration. On monday I taught them writing skills so as for today I will teach them comprehension skills. In today's lesson, students will be given article for them to read. The article is about space. They need to read the article for me to make sure they are pronouncing every word correctly. After that, following the new CEFR system, they need to underline the word in the text and rematch it with a suitable word. After that they need to write no more than five words or numbers based on the questions given for the text.

WEEKLY DUTY

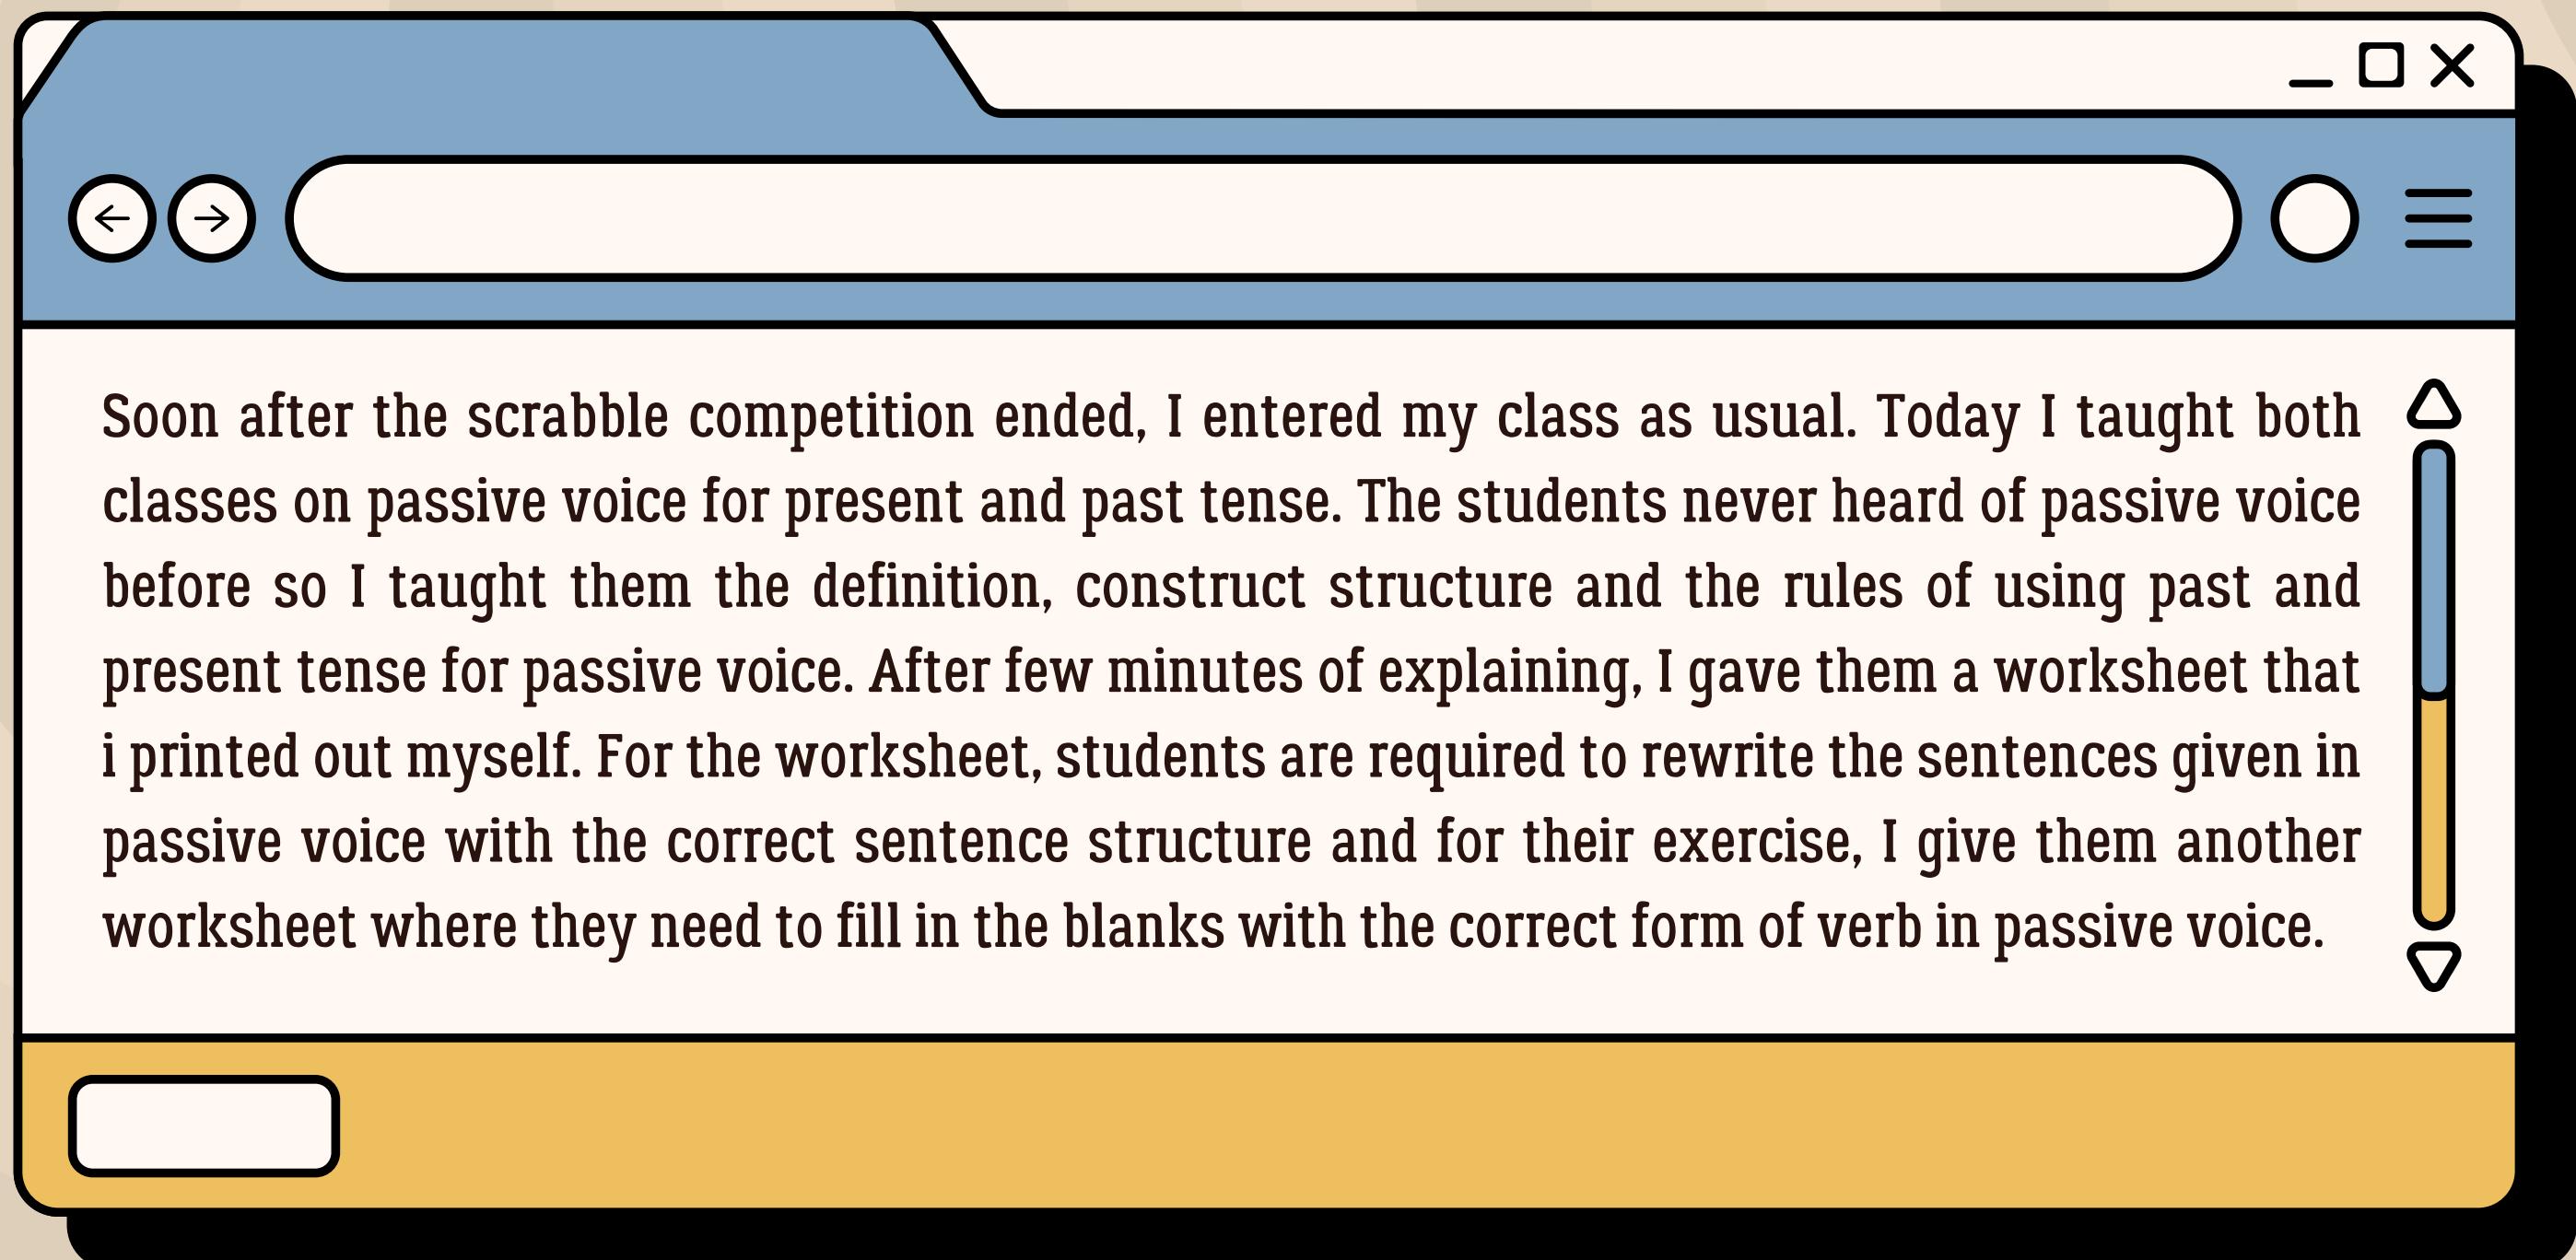

Today is finally the day of our scrabble competition. This activity was Aina (another practical teacher), me and Najwa's idea for academic month. This competition is open for all lower and upper form students. A total of almost 50 students joined this activity which was beyond our expectations. Glad they enjoyed the activity. I was given the task to write their scores on the scoreboard. After a few rounds i switched with Hannah then I watched few groups and help calculate the scores for each individu in the group. The activity was held from 11am to 2pm.

CLASSES

Soon after the scrabble competition ended, I entered my class as usual. Today I taught both classes on passive voice for present and past tense. The students never heard of passive voice before so I taught them the definition, construct structure and the rules of using past and present tense for passive voice. After few minutes of explaining, I gave them a worksheet that i printed out myself. For the worksheet, students are required to rewrite the sentences given in passive voice with the correct sentence structure and for their exercise, I give them another worksheet where they need to fill in the blanks with the correct form of verb in passive voice.

CLASS RELIEF

Later in the afternoon, I had a class relief with the pendidikan moral students. Normally they would gather at the media room, library or moral room but al of them was occupied so I had to gather the students at the school canteen. There we students from 5 different classes and it took a while for me to gather them all together so I just asked for 2 representative to let all the moral students know where to gather during my relief hour. i was only asked to watch them and take their attendance by their main teacher.
